The Constitutional Commission.

Among the amendments recently adopted by the Commission in session at Trenton, are the following:

No trust funds to be invested in private corporations except authorized by the persons making the trust. No city or county or township or village to give any money or property, or loan its credit to any individual or corporation or incur indebtedness or impose any tax except for municipal purposes. No land to be donated by the State, or by municipal corporations to any religious corporation. School funds exclusively for public schools under state control. No less than two mills on the dollar of taxable values each year shall be raised in each county by tax annually, and it is to be expended on the schools therein, and not elsewhere. A motion to strike out "therein and not elsewhere," which changes the present mode, was debated at length and lost. The two mill tax is raised on the values, and hence when distributed some of the counties got more than they raise. It was contended that this principle was unjust and that each county should have all the money it raised. The pay of the members of the Legislature was settled at $500 per annum, and $25 for postage, stationery, and incidentals. The Legislature is not to pass private or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases: Zoning, streets, altering, and widening, or of highways, vacating roads, regulate the internal affairs of towns and counties; appointing local officers or commissioners to regulate municipal affairs; selecting jurors; regulating the interest on money; creating or increasing the allowance to public officers during their term of office; changing the law of descent; granting to any corporation, association or individual, any exclusive privilege, immunity, or franchise whatever. General laws shall be passed to meet all these cases. Considerable debate took place in regard to the mode of selecting jurors. The prevailing sentiment was that the matter should be taken from the hands of the Sheriff.

The cool weather and frosts do not seem to have much effect in staying the progress of yellow fever in the south-west. In Shreveport, while the thickly settled or business portion of the city is comparatively exempt from the ravages of the fever, the outskirts are suffering to a great extent. New cases are continually reported, and a further extent of territory over which it has spread is reported. It covers a radius of five miles from the river, hardly exempting a family. The one redeeming feature is that it is not so violent, and, where the treatment is proper, the preponderance of cases that recover are much larger than when the epidemic first appeared. In Memphis, the Board of Health have requested that absent citizens should not return until notified by them. There were on Monday 24 deaths from the fever.

A Miss Ingraham, of Chauncy street, Brooklyn, was about to be married, and had prepared an elaborate bridal outfit for the event; Rose Bagley, a domestic, stole the entire outfit, leaving the young lady with "nothing to wear." She was compelled to postpone the wedding day for one month. Rose confessed her guilt, but the fixings could not be found. She will go to the penitentiary for one year.

The Ashantes do not seem at all disposed to fulfil the hope that they would accept fight in the open field. It is said that Assah Moquuthah—the Ashante Commander-in-Chief, who is credited with great ability—has ordered his generals to avoid collision where advantage can be taken of the superiority of the English arms, but to admit the English into the country—and "when the English go one way, to take another road."

On Sunday last a slight shock of earthquake was felt at Seattle, Washington Territory, and at four o'clock on the same day an eruption from the summit of Mount Rainier occurred.

Several persons were sent to the State Prison from New Brunswick on Saturday, and one of them thanked the Judge for sentencing him for eighteen months.
